BAXTER COMMUNITY SCHOOL

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The 1957 Oriole Staff is proud to dedicate this year's annual to the Board of Education. These representatives of the Baxter School patrons labored tirelessly to complete the school reorganization plans. Upon the culmination of this task, they launched the building project. Many hours of their time were sacrificed to enable the Baxter Community, the faculty, and students to enjoy an enlarged school plant. The appreciation of the community will be expressed in many ways, this is our contribution for a job well done.

SCHOOL LIFE

Through the year with a student of Baxter High

FRESHMAN INITIATION

He looked like a monster from outer space. Actually he was only a freshman in disguise. His eyes were filled with terror, fearing a mighty senior might show. He walked with the uneasy step of bewilderment. The day seemed like it would never end. That evening as he waited more torture a bunch of cool cats really livened up the party. Man, even Elvis was there. His worst torture was eating grapes. After that he had a wonderful time at the party.

You can always tell a Freshman

By the way he stands and stares.

You can always tell a Sophomore

By all the books he bears.

You can always tell a Junior

By his fancy clothes and such.

You can always tell a Senior

But you can't tell him much.

HALLOWEEN

DEDICATION DAY

He listened to the sound of the band as it echoed in the new gym. He bowed his head as the Invocation was given. As the speaker gave his address, he could remember when the new school was just in the planning stage. He remembered also how the workmen worked all through the winter in order to complete it in time. After the program he could hardly wait to show the people the new school house.

TOURNEY TIME

He jumped and cheered, but it was all in vain.

He was not too dejected for there is always a next year.

The cheering of the crowds, the smell of popcorn.

There's the final buzzer, before he knows it he is swept on to the floor with the crowd to congratulate the winning team.
Yes, it's Tourney Time again.

NATIONAL FIELD DAY

He could tell he was drawing near the site when as far as he could see, either ahead or behind, automobiles blocked the view. But on the right, across the field he could see a series of large tents and circling the local country side were hundreds of tractor drawn wagons carrying people of all kinds. All of a sudden one line of horn honking cars started moving and soon he could see a large convertible.

HOMECOMING PARADE

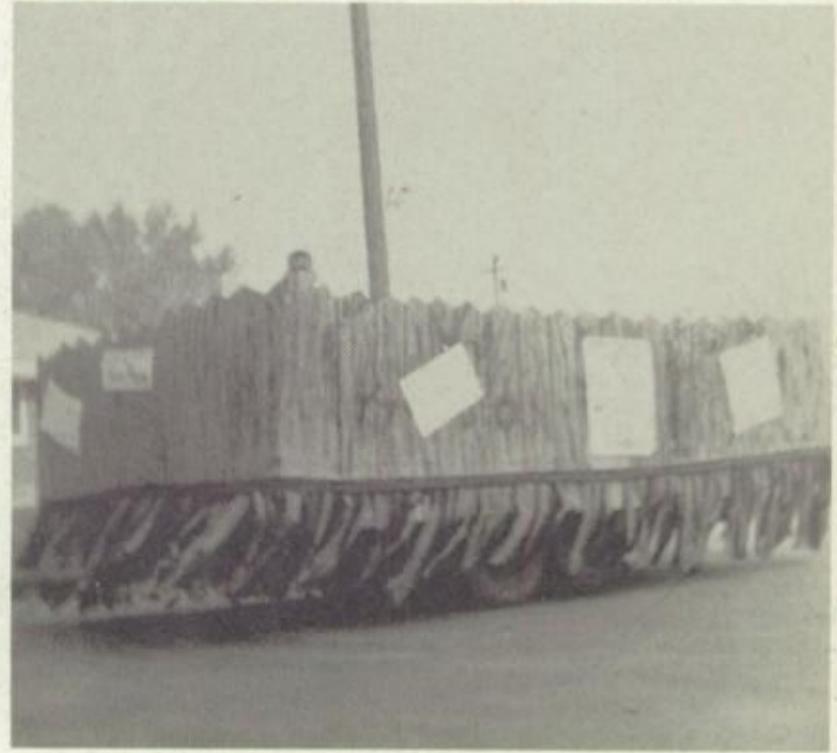

Senior Float

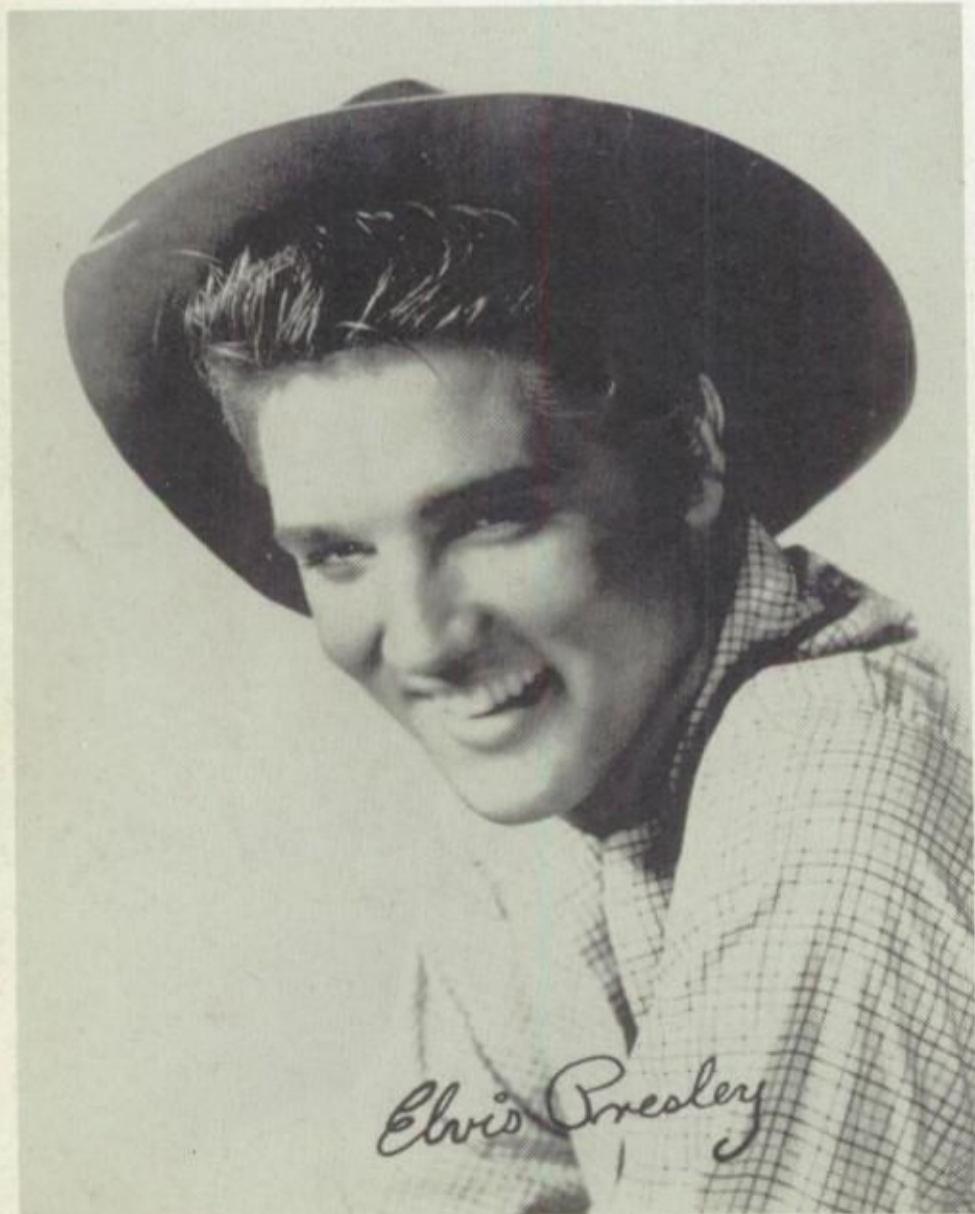

Junior Float

Sophomore Float

Freshman Float

In early October, he and many of his friends, helped the local fireman fight the spectacular Mercantile fire. His attention was soon turned to the political scene, as everyone else's with the coming of National Field Days, highlighted by the appearance of political figures of national recognition. Through the fall and part of winter he listened eagerly to reports as the Suez conflict reached a crisis and then watched the U.N. take steps to settle the matter. His year was filled with events on the lighter side of life also, as he watched Elvis wiggle, rock and roll his way into the hearts of millions of teen-agers, and as he witnessed the exciting dramatic, yet somewhat comical flight of a student pilot over the city of Des Moines.

Compliments of THE BAXTER MERCANTILE

AT THE GAME

Clowning with the opposition!

Cheering them to victory!

VALENTINE'S PARTY

His energy seemed inexhaustible as he danced almost every dance.

It seemed as though he stepped into another world as he passed through the red and white streamers hanging from the doorway. The decorations were highlighted by a big red heart hanging in the center of the room.

When he did stop he always seemed to end up by the punch bowl.

Everyone enjoyed the shoe dance.

Oh, that punch table!!!

He relaxed long enough to enjoy the program.

Even "Rattle-head" Janes was there to entertain.

And those Happy Whistlers made everyone feel gay! He could have danced all night, but as the evening drew to a close he stepped out of the Land of Valentines to take his valentine home.

HOMECOMING

He got the spirit of Homecoming when it started off with a bang with a spirited Pep Rally Thursday evening. On Homecoming afternoon he watched the first homecoming parade of floats made by the high school classes, and that evening he watched the crowning of Queen Charlene, at the half of the big game. His cheering helped lead Baxter on to a victory over Le Grand and he climaxed a perfect night by attending the homecoming dance.

He watched the inspired Junior High Teams roll down the victory road during the year. The girls' team achieved an enviable record and the boys showed marked improvement. However, at the games, he enjoyed Mr. Murphy's coaching as much as the teams' performance.

He thrilled to the pulse-quickenning beat of the march, relaxed to the strains of Strauss Waltzes and inspired by spirituals, enjoyed another season of band concerts. The Winter Concert highlighted the music program and he left the gym with a warm feeling and an eager anticipation for the forthcoming holiday season. He displayed pride in the BHS Pep Band backing our teams with spirited tunes.

The long grueling hours of practice were made easier by the relaxation and joy he experienced during glee club and band rehearsals. He sometimes forgot to sing, and talked instead, but this was soon remedied by the demerit system. His reward for the hard practice was the thrill of concerts, Monroe Festival, and State Music Contests.

MAY YOUR FUTURE BE INSPIRING

Our inspiration has come from the more than 10 million housewives who have insisted on quality washers since we first produced a Maytag Washer in 1907.

Today, we manufacture and merchandise food freezers, automatic washers, gas ranges, automatic dryers, refrigerators, freezers, wringer washers and ironers.

As we head into our second 50 years of appliance manufacturing, we hope to have you among our satisfied Maytag Owners.
